About Building Homes for Heroes

Building Homes for Heroes provides individuals, corporations and others with an opportunity to help our severely wounded and disabled veterans and their families rebuild their lives.

Many of these young men and women are coming home badly burned, with permanent disfigurements, missing limbs, the loss of sight or ability to walk, psychiatric conditions or paralysis.

Building Homes for Heroes is committed to supporting these extraordinary men and women, with a goal to build homes for families in dire need. It's our mission to help those who have made the ultimate personal sacrifice while serving our country.

All proceeds of the Golf Classic will go to helping our wounded men and women of the military.

"I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him."

— Abraham Lincoln

Our Mission

Building Homes for Heroes is all about assisting those in dire need. We carry out fundraising activities such as golf outings, 5K runs, t-shirt sales, awareness nights, and participate in military appreciation events to raise funds to provide special military families with new homes, or renovations/modifications to existing homes.

Before creating Building Homes for Heroes, we talked openly about finding a way to make a significant difference in the lives of wounded Iraq and Afghanistan war veterans and their families. Collectively, we made a decision to form an organization that would improve the quality of life for our heroes through various means. Many of these young men and women are returning from the war in need of home repairs, major renovations, modifications, and in some cases brand new homes tailored to their special needs. Building Homes for Heroes looks to provide these services for the severely wounded young men and women who are struggling to cope with their return to civilian life.
